

Carlsbad Caverns National Park

Carlsbad Caverns
is one of America's most impressive
national parks.

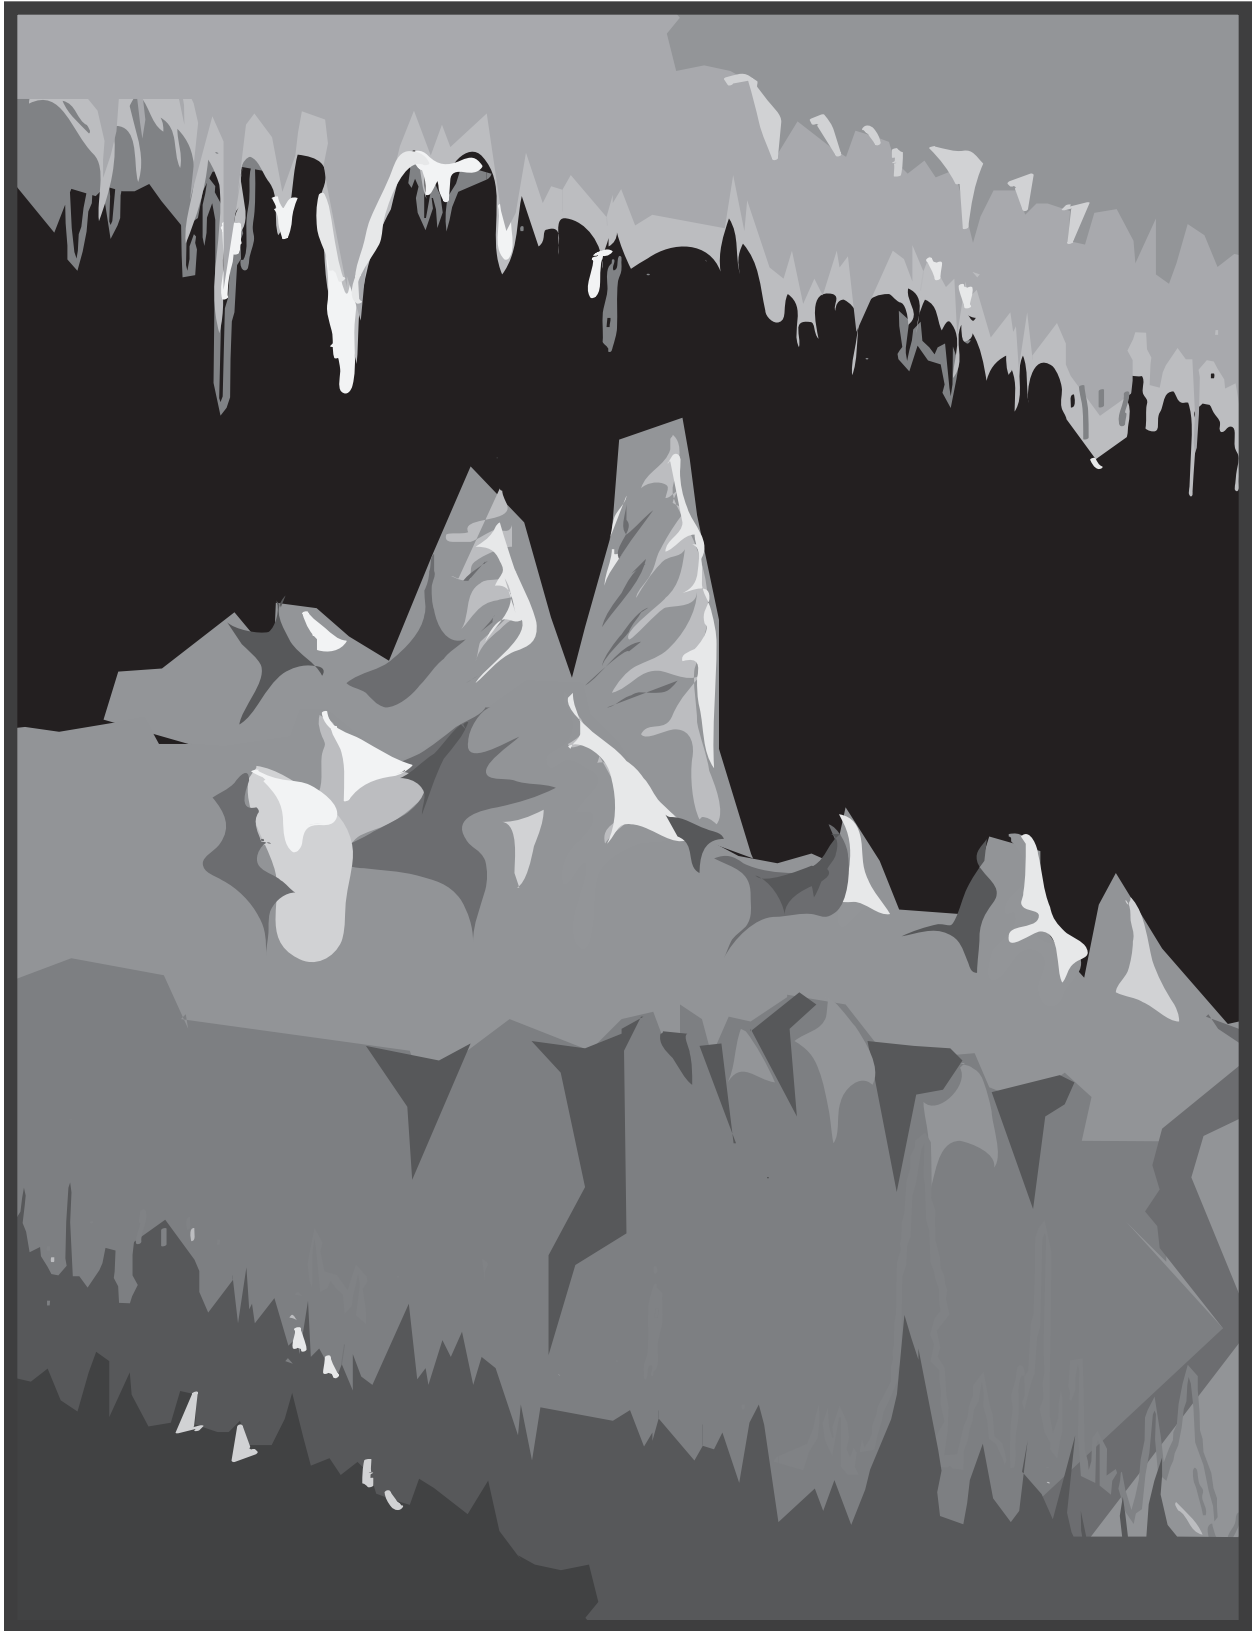

A cavern is a cave
with natural rock formations.

On the way to the caverns, you will travel through the Chihuahuan Desert and the Guadalupe Mountains, but the the best part is underground.

Underneath the desert and mountains are more than 300 natural caverns made of limestone. They were made millions of years ago.

At Carlsbad Caverns National Park, you can take the guided tours in the big caves or squeeze through and explore smaller caves. Now, more than 300,000 people visit these amazing caves every year.
